

East and West China SIM Card and France SIM Card

Visit to China would be akin to a pilgrimage for you to the motherland of martial arts. You may be surprised at the versatility of the Chinese masters compared to whom your teacher of martial arts at home may look amateurish. Anyway there are many other things in China for which you may like to visit it and above all China is one of the progressive business centers in the Asian Zone to day.&nbsp; Instead of using your own cell phone with the SIM Card bought in your own country you may opt for the China SIM Card that will be extremely useful in the locality.&nbsp;

On the other hand your visit to France could be an altogether different experience.&nbsp; It is a land for tourists, romantic endeavors, and excellent food.&nbsp; The Eiffel tower overlooking the Paris skyline and the intimate moments with the person you adore the most are some experiences you will like to immediately transmit back home to your nearest and dearest ones. It could only be possible with a cell phone and the best bet for you is a prepaid GSM France SIM card.

China SIM Card features &ndash;

Prepaid SIM Cards provide you with the benefits of using your personal phone paying only the local rates. You have to only replace your current SIM Card with a China SIM Card. The best combination would be an international cell phone with the prepaid China SIM Card.&nbsp; You pay in the range of only seven cents of nineteen cents per outgoing call depending on your location in China.&nbsp;&nbsp;

You also get a few additional things like the $18 starter credit, a local phone number of China and all the features like SMS text messages and there are no monthly, periodical or yearly contracts either. Just like the UK SIM Card and France SIM Card you require a GSM unlocked mobile set compatible to 900 MHz.&nbsp;&nbsp;

France SIM Card feature

In France when you obtain a prepaid SIM Card, all the incoming calls are free. The rates like China for the outgoing calls are local and you need no contract for the prepaid SIM Card. An additional feature is the existence of WAP and data capability in the SIM.&nbsp; An international cell phone works the best with this type of SIM Card.&nbsp;

Process of adding talk times is the same for China and France.&nbsp; Both these countries use &ldquo;top up&rdquo; cards and the recharge cards available in the local retail centers in various denominations and it depends on your requirement and budget the denomination that you will use.&nbsp; However in most cases, the higher the denomination the cheaper is the value. Simple dialing of the number on the card will activate your SIM recharging it with the value of the card.&nbsp;

Zone specific and International SIM Card

You can also go for the global SIM Card that will be usable in all the countries including China and France.&nbsp; However that will necessitate an international cell phone which will not be your requirement if you use the zone specific SIM Card like the China SIM Card of France SIM Card.
